

In all the exercises we've had so far, the first note has always been note #1. That's not the case in real life. The first note can be anything. In some of these following exercises the first note will be note #7. So you will have to identify note #1 from the key signature, then look and see if the first note to sing is that note or not.

